A SQUABBLE IN A CHURCH.

Two Sets of Trustees in a North Indianapolis House of Worship.

A division has occurred in the congregaion of the Church of Christ of North Indianapolis and the factions are trying to settle their differences in the courts. The Gompers, president of the American Federaa Room 3 are William H. Bowman, George Harsin and James Bell, trustees, who allege they are trustees, against Daniel Som-mer, John Gasper and M. Reser. The de-fendants also claim to be the legal trustees. They were elected at the last meeting, but part of the congregation protested against their election. The objecting members got together and elected Bowman, Harsin and Beil trustees and now they are trying to get possession of the keys.

NEW SCHOOL BUILDING

THE CLIQUE DID , NOT STAND TO-GETHER ON SELECTION OF A SITE.

lids on the Addition to No. 4-A Citi-Meeting Held in the Eleventh District.

The School Board held a long session last night, much of the evening being taken up by the discussion of a suitable site for a school building in the northeast part of the city. After much wrangling over the different propositions it was voted to delay the purchase of a site until the next meeting, which will be held Tuesday night. The committee on buildings and grounds urged the board to purchase the property at the corner of Fifteenth street and Park avenue. This ground can be bought for about $5,500. A building in that locality would relieve the crowded condition of schools Nos. 32, 11, 27, 10 and 29. A sixteen-room building has been proposed. President Martindale was not in favor of purchasing this ground. He asked Commissioner Vonnegut to take the chair and made a speech on the question. He favored buying seven lots of E. F. Claypool, at New Jersey and Fourteenth streets. Mr. Martindale said the lots could be bought for $10,000. He believed this point was nearer the center of population in the district and there was three or four times the demand for a building there than at Fifteenth street and Park avenue. Commissioners Blackledge, Hendrickson, Vonnegut and members of the committee on buildings and grounds opposed the purchase of the higher-priced property. They said it wasn't a question of population at this time. The board should look out for the future. The city is rapidly improving in the northeast district and the new building should be erected as ar northeast as possible. Commissioner Roth was in favor of buying the cheaper property. He said the children on the North Side could afford to walk the extra three or four squares as well as those of the South Side. West of Meridian street and south of Washington, he said, there is but one school building. He wasn't in favor of putting up an expensive buildin favor of putting up an expensive build-

"You people up north can get along with a common school building as well as us down on the South Side," he asserted, with emphasis. Commissioner Loeper was in favor of buying ground on the South Side for a building. He knew of a site at Madison avenue and Raymond street that could be bought for $2,200. This proposition, with the North-side matter, will come up Tuesday night. The Tuesday night meeting has been called to consider bids for a four-room adcalled to consider bids for a four-room addition to school No. 4. The bids received were as follows: F. Schrieber, $15,100; William Kattau, $14,450; J. A. Schumacher & Co., $14,238; C. Bender, $14,700; S. F. Smith, $14,262; William Jungclaus & Co., $14,370; P. Clements, $14,130; F. Lohrman, $25,800; William Krass, $14,495; Salisbury & Stanley, $13,871. The building committee recommended that the latter bid be accepted, but the majority of the commissioners asked for time to view the plans and estimates.

The attorney for the board reported the

. The attorney for the board reported the settlement of the litigation involving school property included in the territory annexed property included in the territory annexed to the city in 1891. The litigation resulted in the board's favor. The attorney further reported having investigated the proposition to appropriate $800 for the aid of the Indianapolis Free Kindergarten. The attorney held that this could not be legally done, as the kindergarten is not under the control of the board. The finance committee, in its of the board. The finance committee, in its report on this question, regretted that the board could not do something for the kindergarten in a financial way and recommended the appointment of a committee to confer with the board of managers of the school. The president appointed on this committee Superintendent Goss, the assistant superintendent, Miss Cropsey, and Commissioners Vonnegut, Blackledge and Russe.

The board received an invitation to the commencement exercises of the Industrial Training School, June 8.

IN THE ELEVENTH DISTRICT. Meeting Last Night to Select an Anti-Clique Candidate.

There was a meeting of well-known men of the Eleventh school district in Centennial Hall, on North Illinois street, last night, to discuss the choice of a candidate for school commissioner from that district. About forty were present, the attendance including both Republicans and Democrats. An informal talk showed that the people of the district were thoroughly disgusted with the mismanagement of the School Board clique now in power. D. F. Appel, who was elected commissioner from the Eleventh district, is now a resident of Boston, having served with the clique, how-ever, for a time after he had left the city. Chapin C. Foster presided at the meeting last night. Most of the men whose names have been mentioned as candidates in the district were present. It was finally decided to permit Chairman Foster to name a committee of seven, who shall name a candidate for the district. The candidate will be opposed to present School Board methods, and will receive the support of people in the district who desire a change.

The School Board election will be held the second Saturday in June, and next Monday night the Council will appoint the election officers.

The financial committee reported that about $1,600 was received during the last year. After the payment of all expenses about $500 is available for this year. The committee on programme announced that a number of prominent speakers have already been engaged to be present at the camp meeting, which is to run four weeks, beginning Thursday, July 16. The programme is not fully completed, as a number of prominent divines who intend to be present are unable to fix the dates of their coming at present. The work of the camp meeting will be conducted on the Chautauqua plan. The W. C. T. U., the missionary societies and the Epworth League will have certain days set apart on which they will conduct the services. The Third Indiana Cavalry and the Seventieth Indiana Infantry (the latter General Harrison's oid regiment) will hold regimental reunions at the camp will hold regimental reunions at the camp grounds during the meeting.

A number of improvements have been made for the comfort of cottagers at the camp grounds. An abundance of good water may be obtained from the driven wells which have been sunk recently. Rev. Robert Roberts, pastor of the Fletcher-place M. E. Church, is the new superintendent of the association, and from the targe number of cottages which have already been leased it is expected that the attendance will exceed that of previous years. Persons desiring to hat of previous years. Persons desiring the rent cottages may communicate with Dr. Roberts at his home, 29 School street. WANT PRESENT LAWS ENFORCED. Federation of Labor's Attitude Towards Immigratioa.

Hon. Edward F. McSweenie, secretary of the Immigration Commission of the United States, and assistant commissioner of immigration at the port of New York, accompanied by Edward L. Dailey, special inspector of immigration, have left the city. after an extended conference with Samuel daintiffs in the suit which is new on trial tion of Labor. The purpose of Messrs. Me-Sweenie and Dailey in visiting Mr. Gompers was to learn the attitude of labor on the immigration question, and to ascertain whether it was deemed advisable to secure the passage of laws to further restrict im-migration. Mr. Gompers informed them that organized labor does not favor laws that will prove more restrictive. On the other hand, labor does favor the passage of laws that will aid in securing the enforcement of the present laws against the importation of foreign contract labor. It is claimed that the law is violated in spirit if not in letter, and that additional measures should be pent in auditing oills, settling accounts and ther work of a purely routine nature.

SUPT. COLBERT'S RETURN. Speaks of the Warm Hospitality of the Southerners.

Superintendent Colbert returned home yesterday afternoon after attending the convention of the National Association of Police Superintendents, held at Atlanta, Ga. The superintendent says that he found the meeting very profitable and instructing. Some three hundred superintendents from all parts of the United States attended the convention, and it was his privilege to meet and form the personal acquaintance of many superintendents with whom he had previously had correspondence concerning police matters. Mr. Colbert was very favorably impressed with the generous hospitality with which the superintendents from Southern cities exerted themselves to entertain their guests from the North. An immense barbecue was one of the special features of the convention. Several hundred porkers and sheep were roasted on iron spits over a Munyon's Improved Homeopathic Remedies at trench more than a block long. Excursions were planned, and the visiting superintendents were taken twenty miles into the country over the road traveled by General Sherman and his troops after the burning of At-

The superintendent was surprised to learn on his return of the resignation of Sergeant James Mefford. He said last night that he had given the subject of appointing Meford's successor no consideration. Mefford's resignation was a complete surprise to the superintendent, as he says that he had always looked upon him as one of the most conservative and trustworthy officers on the
